

E0778

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system for evaluating optical proximity corrected (OPC) designs is provided. The system includes an analysis system for performing measurements relating to a segment of a feature. The analysis system is configured to determine a first image for the segment of the feature based upon the measurements. The analysis system determines a
5 second image to facilitate analysis of the first image and evaluates OPC designs based upon comparisons of the first and second image.

001280" 65624360